

ADVERTISEMENT

A post of Animal Attendant is lying vacant in ICMR Research Project entitled "Evaluation of the role of supplementation of vitamin D3, Chenodeoxycholic acid and retinoic acid on pulmonary tuberculosis in mice model: A step towards host based strategy to combat tuberculosis.

The essential qualification for the post is passed Higher Secondary Examination with Science subjects.

The interested candidates can send their application in plain paper alongwith detailed biodata and attested photocopy of original certificates which should reach the office of the undersigned latest by 13th February 2010. The applicants should appear before a Selection Committee with all original certificates/testimonials on 16th February 2010 at Committee Room, Department of Experimental Medicine and Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh. The candidates should report at 9.30 AM. No TA/DA will be provided for attending the interview and no call letters will be issued for the same.

(Dr. Deepak Kaul)
Principal Investigator &
Professor & Head,
Department of Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology,
PGIMER, Chandigarh.

NB: The post is purely temporary in nature.